

Chapman University - Fowler School of Law, in sunny Southern California, is looking to fill the position, Assistant Research Librarian.

The Assistant Research Librarian collaborates with other law librarians to develop, expand, and provide library services including reference and research services and participates in other activities to fulfill the Law Library's role in supporting the research and educational needs of the Law School community. This position requires a deep understanding of the Law School's curriculum, faculty research interests, library operations, legal information resources, and research methodologies in all formats. This position requires a bachelor's degree and currently enrolled in an MLS program, or an equivalent relevant advanced degree, at an ALA accredited institution. At least two years library experience can be substituted for MLS enrollment. Applicants with a JD from an ABA accredited institution and/or a completed MLS from an ALA accredited institution or an equivalent relevant advanced degree are desired. Salary range for this position is $66,560 - $73,000.

Please see the full job description or apply by going to the links provided. If you have any questions, feel free to reach out!