

Good afternoon!

I am very excited to share that the Berkeley Law Library is launching a search for an Associate Director for Collections and Operations (<https://aprecruit.berkeley.edu/JPF04921>). We're looking for a seasoned and enthusiastic librarian looking to join a library, law school, and university that are leaders in their fields, set in a beautiful city with ready access to the ocean, mountains, forests, and more. This is a great opportunity to work with wonderful people and an amazing collection.

If you have questions about the position, you can either email myself (kpeck@berkeley.edu) or our fearless leader, the Associate Dean of the Law Library, Jessica Whytock (jwhytock@berkeley.edu). This job was posted just in time for me to go on vacation, so if it's after October 24th, please direct your questions to Jessica.

Thanks for your consideration!
