

We're looking for a Research Analyst to come join our Knowledge & Research Services team at Little! The Research Analyst position is responsible for providing high-level, customizable research requests such as complex legal research, legislative history, labor relations information, verdicts and settlement reports, statistical resources, scholastic and news research, expert witness information, analytics, and other in-depth research projects. Other responsibilities include training attorneys and staff on electronic resources, evaluating the value and benefit of current and proposed resources, and special projects.

Location: Fully remote, preferred time zones of Eastern, Mountain, or Pacific

Please see the job posting for more details and to apply: Research Analyst I, Little!