

Associate Director for Law Library Services

The Hugh and Hazel Darling Law Library at Chapman University's Fowler School of Law is looking for an experienced law librarian ready to step into leadership: supervising a public services team, teaching legal research, and shaping library strategy.

Why You'll Love Working With Us:

At the Darling Law Library, we empower our community by enhancing the learning and research experience for our students, faculty, and staff. You'll join a collaborative, service-driven team that values innovation and accessibility — and you'll have genuine influence over library strategy, programming, and outreach, in the heart of Orange County, California.

What You'll Do:

- Oversee the public services department — reference, research, instruction, and circulation — and supervise, train, and evaluate its librarians and staff.
- Teach legal research across the curriculum, from the first-year program to advanced courses and specialized workshops.
- Partner with the Library Director on strategic planning, policy, and administration, and lead library operations in the Director's absence.
- Provide in-depth research support for faculty scholarship and oversee the work of the Research Librarians.

How to Apply:

If you're excited about leading library services and supporting the mission of the Fowler School of Law, we'd love to hear from you. See the full position information and apply at:
